

Contents

Foreword by Tony Jones	vii
Preface	ix
Introduction: Getting Clear on What You (Really) Believe	1
A Prophetic Challenge to Academic Theology ■ Toward the Rebirth of Theology

Part One: Theology for an Age of Transition

1. Things Have Changed, or “Toto, We’re Not in Kansas Any More”	11
Religion in America Fifty Years Ago ■ The ‘60s and ‘70s ■ American Religion in the Early Twenty-First Century
2. Do Christians Have to Hate Change?	16
3. Why the Answers Must Be Theological (and What That Means)	19
A Theology Is a World-and-Life-View ■ Sources for Christian World-and-Life-Views
4. Postmodernity Makes Theologians of Us All	27
What Were the Assumptions of “Modernity?” ■ Transition to a Postmodern World
5. Postmodern Believing	34
Three Last Gasps of Late Modernity ■ Doubt Is Not Sin ■ Return to a Thinking Faith ■ Belonging, Behaving, Believing ■ Always Already on the Way
6. “Everything Must Change”	43
Parallels with the Fall of Rome ■ Changes in the Structure of Congregations ■ Changes in the Structure of Denominations
7. Managing Change	49
An Urgent Call to Church Leaders

Part Two: Theologies That Can Transform the Church

8. Don’t Give Up on the Church!	57
9. Transformative Theologies	61
Two Warring Camps ■ Returning to “Big Tent” Christianity ■ Don’t Just Talk about It; Do It! ■ Learning from Experience

- 10. Learning to Find Your Theological Voice 69
 Make Your Beliefs Conscious ■ Examples to Get You Started ■ The Seven Core Christian Questions ■ Building Church Programs from Your Theology Outward ■ Imagine Martin Luther in the Twenty-First Century
- 11. Theology as Telling the Story 79
 Telling Theological Stories at the Personal Level ■ Telling Theological Stories at the Congregational Level—and Beyond
- 12. Theologies in Action 85
 Put Your Thought Where Your Heart Is ■ Try This Experiment in Your Local Church ■ Don't Sweat the Small Stuff ■ Viewing Theologies as Complementary, Not Mutually Exclusive
- 13. A Theology of Self-Emptying for the Church 94
 The Christ Hymn in Philippians 2 ■ Living the Christ Hymn ■ Recognizing the Faces of Power and Prejudice ■ Self-Emptying in Christian Congregations ■ Uniting Proclamation with Self-Emptying ■ Self-Emptying Theologies

Part Three: Theologies That Can Transform Society

- 14. New Partnerships in Christian Activism 115
 The Obama Effect ■ Postmodern (Pragmatic) Idealism
- 15. Time to Leave behind Old Liberal/Evangelical Battles 118
 It Looks like “Liberal” Won't Do It ■ Finding a Term that Splits the Difference ■ Making a Difference with the Difference
- 16. From Church Ministries to Missional Churches 125
 How Things Used to Be ■ How Things Are Now ■ Rethinking Theology of Mission from the Ground Up ■ Features of Missional Churches
- 17. Social Transformation without “Us versus Them” 132
 Our Plural Identities ■ Theology in an Age of Interlocking Identities ■ A Call to Retrieval, Renewal—and Radical Transformation
- 18. Constructing Theologies of the Community for the Community:
 The Six Steps 138
 The Excitement Principle ■ Identifying with a Missional Community ■ Why Real Community and Missional Christianity are Inseparable
- 19. Toward a Progressive Theology for Christian Activism 146
 Why Is It Controversial for Christians to be Boldly Progressive? ■ Social Transformation in Luke 4, Luke 6, and Matthew 25 ■ Working with God for the Salvation of the World

Part Four: Conversations Worth Having

- Conversation 1: Choice, Convictions, and Connections 161
- Conversation 2: Barriers to Belonging 164
- Conversation 3: Toward a Progressive Missiology 170
- Notes 175
- For Further Reading 181