

Table of Contents

Preface

Acknowledgments

Introduction

Introduction to Volume I: Thinking the Faith

PART I: THE DISCIPLE COMMUNITY

Chapter One: The Meaning of Contextuality in Christian Thought

1. A Reputation for Timelessness
2. Defining Contextuality
3. Why Theology Is Contextual
4. The Dangers of Contextuality
5. The Process of Thinking Contextually
6. A Generalization: What Makes for Contextuality in Christian Theology?

Chapter Two: Discerning Our Context

7. The Circumscription of Contexts
8. Prisoners of Optimism
9. Invitation to Theology
10. Visions in the Night

Chapter Three: Components of Our Context

Introduction: Contributing Crises

11. The End of the Constantinian Era
12. Religious Pluralism
13. The Theological Impact of Auschwitz
14. Marxism and the Revolution of the Oppressed
15. The Rebellion of Nature
16. The Nuclear Crisis
17. Apocalyptic Consciousness and the Rise of Religious Simplism

Conclusion and Transition

PART II: THE DISCIPLINE

Chapter Four: Elements of the Discipline

- 18. Theology and Faith
- 19. Theology and the Bible
- 20. Theology and Doctrinal Traditions
- 21. Theology and Experience
- 22. Theology and Prayer
- 23. Theology and the Church
- 24. Theology and "the World"

Chapter Five: Theological Method

- 25. A Fundamental Tension
- 26. Christian Apologetics
- 27. Apologetic and Kerygmatic Theology in Relation to the Concern for Contextualization

Chapter Six: Knowing in Christian Faith and Theology

- 28. Modes of Knowing
- 29. Reason and Revelation
- 30. What Is Revelation?
- 31. Revelation and Reason
- 32. Authority in Faith and Theology

Index of Subjects

Index of Names