

Table of Contents

PREFACE AND EDITOR'S NOTE

INTRODUCTION

SELECTED TEXTS

One – Toward a New Method: Theology and Liberation

1. Toward a Theology of Liberation
2. Theology and Liberation
3. Theology: A Critical Reflection
4. The limitations of Modern Theology: On a Letter of Dietrich Bonhoeffer
5. Theology and the Social Sciences
6. Revelation and Theological Method
7. Truth and Theology
8. Understanding the God of Life
9. Theological Language: Fullness of Silence
10. Upstream to the Source

Two – Hermeneutical Principle: Preferential Option for the Poor

11. History Is One
12. Encountering God in History
13. The Historical Power of the Poor
14. In a Foreign Land
15. The Evangelizing Potential of the Poor
16. Conflict in History
17. The Suffering of Others
18. The God Who Comes
19. Preferential Option for the Poor
20. God's Memory

Three – Theological Axis: The Gratuitousness and Exigence of Love

21. Conversion to the Neighbor
22. Freedom as a Gift and Task at Puebla
23. Free to Love
24. The Church of the Beatitudes
25. Gratuitousness and the Freedom of God's Love
26. The Kingdom Is at Hand

- 27. Between Gift and Demand
- 28. The Way of Works

Four – Rethinking Soteriology: Liberation, Freedom, and Communion

- 29. The Process of Liberation
- 30. Christ the Liberator
- 31. Eschatology and Politics
- 32. Jesus and the Political World
- 33. The Path of Liberation

Five – Liberating Evangelization: Church of the Poor

- 34. Creating a new Ecclesial Presence
- 35. The Church: Sacrament of History
- 36. Community: Out of Solitude
- 37. The Liberating Mission of the Church
- 38. Theology: An Ecclesial Function
- 39. Shame
- 40. "And They Said They Would See to It . . . "

Six – Discipleship: Walking according to the Spirit

- 41. A Spirituality of Liberation
- 42. Poverty: Solidarity and Protest
- 43. Encounter with the Lord
- 44. "I will Not Restrain My Tongue"
- 45. John of the Cross: A Latin American View
- 46. Pastor and Witness

Notes to the Introduction

SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY

Index