

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	xii
Foreword
Layli Maparyan	xiii
Contributors	xvii
Introduction: Ain't I a Womanist Too?
Third Wave Womanist Religious Thought
Monica A. Coleman	1

Part I. Religious Pluralism

1. Muslim Marriage
A Womanist Perspective on Troubling U.S. Traditions
Debra Majeed	35
2. From Mistress to Mother
The Religious Life and Transformation of Tynetta Muhammad in the Nation of Islam
Stephen C. Finley	49
3. Nature, Sexuality, and Spirituality
A Womanist Reading of Di Mu (Earth Mother) and Di Mu Jing (Songs of Earth Mother) in China
Pu Xiumei	63

Part II. Popular Culture

4. Is This a Dance Floor or a Revival Meeting?
Theological Questions and Challenges from the Underground House Music Movement
Darnise C. Martin	81

5. Confessions of a Ex-Theological Bitch
The Thickness of Black Women's Exploitation between Jacquelyn Grant's "Backbone" and Michael Eric Dyson's "Theological Bitch"
 Elonda Clay 93
6. It's Deeper Than Rap
Hip Hop, the South, and Abrahamic Masculinity
 Ronald B. Neal 107

Part III. Gender and Sexuality

7. "I Am a Nappy-Headed Ho"
(Re)Signifying "Deviance" in the Haraam of Religious Respectability"
 Monica R. Miller 123
8. Dark Matter
Liminality and Black Queer Bodies
 Roger A. Sneed 139
9. Invisible Hands
An Epistemology of Black Religious Thought and Black Lesbian Sexual Desire That Disrupts "Crystallized Culture"
 Nesselte Falu 149
10. "Beyond Heterosexuality"
Toward a Prolegomenon of Re-Presenting Black Masculinity at the Beginning of the Post-Civil Rights, Post-Liberation Era
 EL Kornegay Jr. 161

Part IV. Politics

11. Aesthetic Pragmatism and a Third Wave of Radical Politics
 Sharon D. Welch 175
12. "We'll Make Us a World"
A Post-Obama Politics of Embodied Creativity
 Barbara A. Holmes 187

13. Scholarly Aesthetics and the Religious Critic
Black Experience as Manifolds of Manifestations and Powers of Presentations
Victor Anderson 201
14. Embodying Womanism
Notes toward a Holistic and Liberating Pedagogy
Arisika Razak 217