Music in Luke

The pandemic has made singing in groups difficult and dangerous. This year, depending on your context, it may be safe to resume congregational singing. Luke is the ideal gospel writer for a return to assembly song, because his gospel is full of singing!

Luke begins with the news that Elizabeth and Zechariah, despite their old age, will have a son who will prepare people for the arrival of the long-awaited Messiah. This is a prelude to the singing that follows from Elizabeth and Zechariah; Jesus' mother, Mary; the prophets Simeon and Anna; and even an angel choir!

Probably the most well-known and widely celebrated song in Luke is Mary's song, the Magnificat. In response to the angel Gabriel's news that Mary will bear God's child, Mary sings a song of joy and gratitude for both God's blessing upon her and God's justice for the world. This song has captured the imaginations of many writers and composers over the centuries, and many musical settings of it are available today.

This promo pack contains another document about song in Luke: 8_Music Suggestions. That document lays out many options for singing along with Luke's Gospel, including numerous hymns and a variety of choral anthems. May you sing with all the people of God and the angels on high!
