The Whirl Kids Study Bible invites kids to enter the Bible in creative, colorful ways.

The characters from the Whirl videos are found throughout the pages of the Bible to help kids dive deeper into stories, ask questions, and make connections to their own lives.

When kids explore God’s Word using the Whirl Bible, they learn how the story of God’s people spans thousands of years, 66 books, and hundreds of people. They’ll also see how the Bible is part of their story today.
Meet the Whirl Kids

Hi, I’m Mimi! I love languages and geography and ponies and doing cartwheels. I think the Bible is super stupendous—it describes really amazing people in really amazing places. Like Moses in Egypt. Joshua in Jericho. And Jesus and the disciples in Galilee and all around Jerusalem! The apostle Paul and many other early Christians even traveled to extra faraway places to tell the good news of Jesus. That’s exactly what I’m going to do . . . in print form! You can find me all over this Bible with fabulous notes on locations and geography.

Hey, I’m Gabe. I’m just your average guy. And like most average guys I have a lot of questions.

Do you sometimes ask yourself what the deal is with all the stories and messages in the Bible? Do you ever wonder how the Bible applies to your life? Did you know that I’m here to ask questions to get you thinking as you read this Bible?
Leo, here. Science and technology are my fortes, but I also excel in history, vocabulary, culture, and other fascinating facts. I’m here to educate you on a plethora of fascinating biblical trivia that will give you contextual insights into Bible passages and perhaps one day earn you a slot on your local Bible Scholars Bowl team!

I’m Ruby, and I help people figure stuff out and make stuff happen. I’m all about action! The Bible isn’t just something to read and memorize, but something to live out. Good thing I’m here to get you people moving.

Genesis

WHO is the audience for this book?

The Bible and the story of creation begin with Genesis. This book of beginnings gets passed down in a number of ways. It was likely told to campfires for centuries before anyone ever wrote it down. People shared these stories in their families and communities for generations. After the kingdom of Israel was formed, the Jews compiled the stories into scrolls. Because Genesis concerns beginnings, the story is written for all. It serves as a start to the unfolding narrative of God and God’s people.

WHAT does this book tell us?

Genesis tells us much about the nature of God and God’s relationship with all of creation. It offers narratives of creation and human disobedience. Genesis describes the start of Israel as a people. Abraham and Sarah have children late in life. These offspring start a long story that sets the stage for the coming of Christ. This begins many, many, many years before the birth of Jesus.

WHY is this book important?

This book ends with a story of the strong faith of God’s people. Genesis is important because it sets the stage for all that lies ahead in the story of the Israelites and the journey they will take to the Promised Land. It also sets the stage for us today, and our journey, as we discover ways that God has created and still creates in our lives.

GENESIS 15:1

GOD’S COVENANT WITH ABRAHAM

15:1-6 After these things the word of the Lord came to Abram in a vision, saying, ‘Do not fear, Abram, I am your shield; from henceforth your name shall be Abraham.’ 2 And he said, ‘Why has the Lord said this unto me, “Your name shall be Abraham,” seeing I shall not have children?” So he said to him, “Out of little seed shall a nation come.” 3 And he said to him, “Oh that a son would go in from me! Then he said to him, “Out of the dead land I will make a nation.” 4 And he said to him, “Your creeping things shall be multitude upon the earth.” 5 And he said to him, “In multitude shall your seed come, and kings shall come out of your loins.” 6 And Abram believed the Lord, and the Lord reckoned it to him as righteousness.

THE BIRTH OF ISMAEL

16:1 Now Sarai, Abram’s wife, took Hagar her slave-girl from Egypt.

The universe is filled with too many stars to count. God promised Abram that his children and grandchildren would be too many to count even four hundred years; “I will bring judgment on the nation that they serve, and afterward they shall come out with great possessions.” As for yourself, you shall multiply to number innumerable, and shall be a nation great.”

So this is the beginning of the Bible, Mimi?

Yeah, Gabe! I’m so excited!

There’s action, romance, betrayal, forgiveness, a super-tall tower…

Natural disasters, dreams about cows eating cows, and a 969-year-old man!

Wow! All of that’s in the Bible?

No, Gabe. All of that’s just in the first book—Genesis!
GENESIS 15:1

GOD’S COVENANT WITH ABRAM

After these things the word of the Lord came to Abram in a vision, “Do not be afraid, Abram, I am your shield; your reward shall be very great.”

But Abram said, “O Lord God, what will you give me, for I continue childless, and the heir of my house is Eliezer of Damascus?”

And Abram said, “You have given me no offspring, and so a slave born in my house is to be my heir.”

But the word of the Lord came to him, “This man shall not be your heir; no one but your very own issue shall be your heir.”

He brought him outside and said, “Look toward heaven and count the stars, if you are able to count them.” Then he said to him, “So shall your descendants be.”

And he believed the Lord; and the Lord reckoned it to him as righteousness.

Then he said to him, “I am the Lord who brought you from Ur of the Chaldeans, to give you this land to possess.”

But he said, “O Lord God, how am I to know that I shall possess it?”

He said to him, “Bring me a heifer three years old, a female goat three years old, a ram three years old, a turtledove, and a young pigeon.”

He brought him all these and cut them in two, laying each half over against the other; but he did not cut the birds in two.

And when birds of prey came down on the carcasses, Abram drove them away.

As the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell upon Abram, and a deep and terrifying darkness descended upon him.

Then the Lord said to Abram, “Know this for certain, that your offspring shall be aliens in a land that is not theirs, and shall be slaves there, and they shall be oppressed for four hundred years; but I will bring judgment on the nation that they serve, and afterward they shall come out with great possessions.

As for yourself, you shall go to your ancestors in peace; you shall be buried in a good old age.

And they shall come back here in the fourth generation; for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet complete.”

When the sun had gone down and it was dark, a smoking fire pot and a flaming torch passed between these pieces.

On that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, “To your descendants I give this land, from the river of Egypt to the great river, the river Euphrates, the land of the Kenites, the Kenizzites, the Kadmonites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Rephaim, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Girgashites, and the Jebusites.”

THE BIRTH OF ISHMAEL

Now Sarai, Abram’s wife, bore him no children.

She had an Egyptian slave-girl whose name was Hagar, and Sarai said to Abram, “You see that the Lord has prevented me from bearing children; go in to my slave-girl; it may be that I shall obtain children by her.” And Abram listened to the voice of Sarai.

So, after Abram had lived ten years in the land of Canaan, Sarai, Abram’s wife, took Hagar the Egyptian, her slave-girl, and gave her to her husband Abram as a wife.

He went in to Hagar, and she conceived; and when she saw that she had conceived, she looked with contempt on her mistress.

Then Sarai said to Abram, “May the wrong done to me be on you! I gave my slave-girl to your embrace, and when she saw that she had conceived, she looked on me with contempt. May the Lord judge between 15 God said to Abraham, “As for Sarai your wife, you shall not call her Sarai, but Sarah shall be her name. 16 I will bless her, and moreover I will give you a son by her. I will bless her, and she shall give rise to nations; kings of peoples shall come from her.” 17 Then Abraham fell on his face and laughed, and said to himself, “Can a child be born to a man who is a hundred years old? Can Sarah, who is ninety years old, bear a child?” 18 And Abraham said to God, “O that Ishmael might live in your sight!” 19 God said, “No, but your wife Sarah shall bear you a son, and you shall name him Isaac. 20 As for Ishmael, I have heard you; I will bless him and make him fruitful and exceedingly numerous; he shall be the father of twelve princes, and I will make him a great nation. 21 But my covenant I will establish with Isaac, whom Sarah shall bear to you at this season next year.” 22 And when he had finished talking with him, God went up from Abraham.

23 Then Abraham took his son Ishmael and all the slaves born in his house or bought with his money, every male among the men of Abraham’s house, and he circumcised the flesh of their foreskins that very day, as God had said to him. 24 Abraham was ninety-nine years old when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 25 And his son Ishmael was thirteen years old when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 26 That very day Abraham and his son Ishmael were circumcised; 27 and all the men of his house, slaves born in the house and those bought with money from a foreigner, were circumcised with him.

A SON PROMISED TO ABRAHAM AND SARAH

18 The Lord appeared to Abraham by the oaks of Mamre, as he sat at the entrance of his tent in the heat of the day. 2 He looked up and saw three men standing near him. When he saw them, he ran from the tent entrance to meet them, and bowed down to the ground. 3 He said, “My lord, if I find favor with you, do not pass by your servant. 4 Let a little water be brought, and wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree. 5 Let me bring a little bread, that you may refresh yourselves, and after that you may pass on—since you have come to your servant.” So they said, “Do as you have said.” 6 And Abraham hastened into the tent to Sarah, and said, “Make ready quickly three measures of choice flour, knead it, and make cakes.” 7 Abraham ran to the herd, and took a calf, tender and good, and gave it to the servant, who hastened to prepare it. 8 Then he took curds and milk and the calf that he had prepared, and set it before them; and he stood by them under the tree while they ate.

9 They said to him, “Where is your wife Sarah?” And he said, “There, in the tent.” 10 Then one said, “I will surely return to you in due season, and your wife Sarah shall have a son.” And Sarah was listening at the tent entrance behind him. 11 Now Abraham and Sarah were old, advanced in age; it had ceased to be with Sarah after the manner of women. 12 So Sarah laughed to herself, saying, “After I have grown old, and my husband is old, shall I have pleasure?” 13 The Lord said to Abraham, “Why did Sarah laugh, and say, ‘Shall I indeed bear a child, now that I am old?’” 14 Is anything too wonderful for the Lord? At the set time I will return to you, in due season, and Sarah shall have a son.”

15 But Sarah denied, saying, “I did not laugh”; for she was afraid. He said, “Oh yes, you did laugh.”

THE BIRTH OF ISAAC

21 The Lord dealt with Sarah as he had said, and the Lord did for Sarah as he had promised.

Sarah conceived and bore Abraham a son in his old age, at the time of which God had spoken to him.

Abraham gave the name Isaac to his son whom Sarah bore him.

And Abraham circumcised his son Isaac when he was eight days old, as God had commanded him.

Abraham was a hundred years old when his son Isaac was born to him.

Now Sarah said, “God has brought laughter for me; everyone who hears will laugh with me.”

And she said, “Who would ever have said to Abraham that Sarah would nurse children? Yet I have borne him a son in his old age.”

HAGAR AND ISHMAEL SENT AWAY

8 The child grew, and was weaned; and Abraham made a great feast on the day that Isaac was weaned.

But Sarah saw the son of Hagar the Egyptian, whom she had borne to Abraham, playing with her son Isaac.

So she said to Abraham, “Cast out this slave woman with her son; for the son of this slave woman shall not inherit along with my son Isaac.”

The matter was very distressing to Abraham on account of his son.

But God said to Abraham, “Do not be distressed because of the boy and because of your slave woman; whatever Sarah says to you, do as she tells you, for it is through Isaac that offspring shall be named for you.

As for the son of the slave woman, I will make a nation of him also, because he is your offspring.”

So Abraham rose early in the morning, and took bread and a skin of water, and gave it to Hagar, putting it on her shoulder, along with the child, and sent her away. And she departed, and wandered about in the wilderness of Beer-sheba.

15 When the water in the skin was gone, she cast the child under one of the bushes.

Then she went and sat down opposite him a good way off, about the distance of a bowshot; for she said, “Do not let me look on the death of the child.” And as she sat opposite him, she lifted up her voice and wept.

And God heard the voice of the boy; and the angel of God called to Hagar from heaven, and said to her, “What troubles you, Hagar? Do not be afraid; for God has heard the voice of the boy where he is.

Come, lift up the boy and hold him fast with your hand, for I will make a great nation of him.”

Then God opened her eyes and she saw a well of water. She went, and filled the skin with water, and gave the boy a drink.

20 God was with the boy, and he grew up; he lived in the wilderness, and became an expert with the bow.

He lived in the wilderness of Paran; and his mother got a wife for him from the land of Egypt.
